HONGKONG, MONDAY, JULY 25, 1892.

THE Hongkong College of Medicine for Chinese has been brought very conspicuously before the community during the last few days and a great deal has been said about what the institution has done, what it is doing and what it is going to do. As to-the future of the College there may be a difference of views, but even the most sceptical people will admit that it has so far proved itself capable of accomplishing the by-no-means-easy task which undertook on its establishment five years ago, namely, that of imparting to Chinese students such a knowledge of Mrs W. S. Inglis and The Honourable T. H. western medical science as will enable them to obtain the diploma of the College, which certifies that they are qualified to practise Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery' in accordance with western methods. Another hopeful fact as regards the future is the munificent offer by Mr Belilius to give the College a local habitation of its own, independ Per Arratoon Apear, at 11.30 a.m., on ent of the Alice Memorial Hospital, on Tuesday, the 26th inst., instead of as condition that Government grant a sum of $40,000 as an endowment to the institution. Having these facts in view, Dr Cantlie, the Dean of the College, Per Fokien, at 11.30 a.m., on Tuesday, optimist of the optimists as he is, can For STRAITS, COLOMBO & BOMBAY, hardly be said to have been over-Per Elektra, at 0.3) p.m., on Tuesday, sanguine in the excellent address which he delivered on Saturday, although his For SWATOW, FOOCHOW, CHEFOO & picture of the future may have been painted on too large' a canvas and in

If the strength of the shortly after noon to-day. tenching staff can be maintained there is no reason why the Hongkong College of Medicine for Chinese should not become one of the permanent, as well as one of the most honourable and deserving, institutions of the colony. The manner in which the work of the College has been carried on during the first five years of its existence gives a very satisfactory criterion as to the likelihood of a sufficient number of competent teachers being forthcoming in the future to continue this very praiseworthy work, in the interests of science and civilisation, and for the good of suffering humanity, a work which has been so well begun. One of the most important passages in Dr Cantlie's address was that in which he made special reference to the teachers. Of those from whom at the outset assistance in the way of teaching was expected, eight had retired in the course IN the Manufacture of these Waters the of the five years, and the worthy Dean referred to ten more as 'missing.' The retirements' seem to have been chiefly of the unavoidable kind. The services of Surgeon-General Lewer and the who were members of the original chemical analyses; so that absolute purity | Educational Body, could not, of course, be looked upon as likely to be permanent; but there was no doubt a hope FOR COAST PORTS.-Waters are that those who succeeded these gentlepacked and placed on Board at Hongkong | men here would supply the loss to the Prices, and the full amount allowed for College Staff. The hope, we are sorry Packages and Empties when received in to hear, has not been fully realised. 'Not having been present at the birth the reason why the successors of those who have necessarily had to retire 'have never taken so deep an interest in its work.' But this is not the chief loss to the teaching staff. The ten 'missing are described as 'composed mostly of those who had their names associated with important Chairs for a time, but who, when the hour for lecture came, found that their engagements would not permit of their undertaking the duties.' Now this was a loss which could hardly have failed to kill the College in its earliest infancy, but for the energy and determination of those who remained true to it. But even this difficulty has been overcome, and in spite of all the 'disaffection and apathy' Dr Cantlie was able to say with truth-'As we look down the list of our lecturers and examiners we may well be proud of the names we contemplate. In the vitality which has enabled it to get over all the troubles and dangers of its infantile years lies the surest hope of a long and prosperous career for the Cellege. The condition attached to Mr Belilios's

Had the colony that the s. s. But, as His Excellency remarked, 'this is an awkward time to come to the Legislative Council for an endowment.' When it is known that the surplus for 1898 is estimated at only $9,000, the force of Sir William Robinson's remark becomes very apparent. His Excellency, however, has had a on Saturday afternoon, the 23rd instant. good deal of experience apparently in putting right the finances of emable, before he leaves Hongkong, to has directed that it shall be observed as a announce that this endowment has been granted by a willing Legislative Coun-It would be very unsatisfactory, as His Excellency's words suggested, to force a vote for such a purpose as this through the Council by means of an official majority; but, low as the Colonial Exchequer is, we should not suppose for a moment that it would be Fines were imposed ranging from $200 to necessary to adopt such a course in $2. order to obtain the required endowment. On the other hand, it would be unsatisfactory for the College to have to wait for an indefinite time before getting an actual assurance of the grant. The expression of a hope that the endowment will be obtained, or a vague promise, does not fulfil the condition required by Mr Belilios. would be practically met, however, by the promise of a small annual grant to the institution, until the Government are in a position to ask a vote for the $40,000. This would allow the erection of the College building to be proceeded with at once.

COLLEGE OF MEDICINE FOR CHINESE.

A TOTAL BY THE DEAN. On Saturday evening Dr. Cantlie, Doan of the College of Medicine for Chinese, entertained to dinner at Mount Austin Hotel a number of gentlemen who have been more or less intimately connected veers "More than; fifty gentlemen sa down to dinner, the Company including-His Excellency the Governor (Sir William Robinson). His Excellency Major-General Digby Barker, His Honour Chief Justice Fielding Clarke (Rector), Mr McLeavy Brown, Mr H. E. Pollock, Dr Alexander Turnbull, Hon. T. H. Whitehead, Hop. J. H. Stewart-Lockbart, Mr H. L. Dennys, Dr John C. Thomson, Dr Jordan, Mr Hugh bicCallum, Mr C. Ewons. Dr Chalmers. Surgeon Major Rubbins, Mr Piercy, Mr Kaw Hong Take, Mr . O. H. Simons, Mr W. M. Watson, Mr C. H. Grace, Mr W. E. Crow, Mr Jas. Orange, Mr J. Dyer Ball, Mr W. H. Wickham. Mr E. W. Lucas, Dr Bateson Wright, Mr S. W. Knaggs, &c.

An excellent dinner was purveyed by Mr long toast-list was gone through. The toasts of 'The Queen' and 'The Governor' having been duly honoured, The Dean gave the toust of the Army Navy and Reserve Forces. Ho said-I may mention that the order given is not my placing-it must have been tampered with, I think, by the authorities, of the Hotel-I have no doubt that my writing was so very had that they mistook the order which read. Navy. Army, and Reserve Forces I am sure, however, that the representatives of the Navy here to-night will know that the fact of putting the Army before them cannot effect the position of that ancient and gloriousservice. I was told only to put down the Army and Navy, not the Reserve Forces, because there were no Reserve here. I refute that as a mentier of the Reserve Force of Hongkong (hear, hear). So the Army; the Navy, and the Reserve Forces' is how it stands at the present moment. - In regard to the Army on this occasion it has a very special claim on us because never before have we had an army of our own, and now we can boast of our Hongkong Regiment, which I really think deserves a special toast. generally (applause.) Hon. J. H. Stewart-Lockhart rose to propose the next toast. He suid-Your Excellency, Mr Dean, and gentlemen, I have been entrusted this evening with the toast of 'The College '-a toast which I think in with the College during the past five many respects may be regarded as the what unfortunate for the College that the toast has been entrusted to my hands now for the second time. It is an unfortunate fact, gestlemen, but it would be still more unfortunate if the College was an institution which depends upon words more than deeds, but it has shown during five years of silent unobtrusive existence that it is an institution which does not require orstory to advertise it. Therefore, gentlemen, though it is to be regretted that this toas has not been allotted to one of those more accustomed to speak than myself-for a you know the official is a somewhat silent animal in this Colony and the unofficial somewhat more talkative - (laughter)-still as this toast has been entrusted to me, and seeing that it is a teast in which I take the Isherwood, and after dinner a somewhat greatest interest, I will try to do my best, eloquence (laughter). I was present at the birth of this institution in 1887. The birth l took place in a quiet, unestentatious mannothing eventful. There were not many present, and there was nothing to mark t as the great event it really was. Tha has been. I think, the characteristic of great births throughout history (laughter). There was nothing at all remarkable in the birth of this institution which to-day has shown us that it is r. markable in itself. In 1887 we all assem led in s demn conclave to do honour to a Cullege called the Chinese College of Medicine. On that occasion the Dean of the College, which had just ome into existence, delivered a lecture which was in itself remarkable, and which until we heard the address of the Dean to-day was, I think, the most remarkable address ever heard in the colony of Hongkong during my experience, extending over 13 years. Up to that time the most remarkable thing in connection with the institution was that address. Well, gentlemen, since that time the institution has been working quietly and uncatentatiously; in fact, I think it would not have been a surprise to many here present to-night if they had been told that the College had ceased to exist, and if they gard to this Hongkong Regiment. The had been asked to describe what the institution was they would have been somewhat vague in their description. However

That perhaps was due to that modesty which is so characteristic of the nation to which he belongs (laughter). Gentlemen, the object of this College, I take it, is to relieve suffering humanity. That is at any rate the main object and that is the object which the gentiemen associated with it have kept steadily the Russian fleet, which was here at the in view.
